

Peachy Keen

IN TECHNICOLOR TINSELTOWN, EVERYTHING IS SUDDENLY COMING UP PEACHES. BY STACEY LEASCA

Los Angeles is a place best experienced in living color. But with more than 503 square miles to explore, narrowing down the city's most inspiring, and colorful, haute spots is a tough job. Luckily, Ashley Manhan and Andrea DeRosa, the duo behind interior design firm Avenue ID (avenueid.com), offered to help. "Los Angeles has so many different layers. You've got the city, you've got the mountains, and you've got all these different kinds of people," says Manhan, who just redesigned the guest rooms at the SLS Beverly Hills. "It's always been a good source of inspiration for our design." To narrow down their decision, the partners landed peach as their theme because it's a "strong color"... with a feminine bent! Here are six places that inspire the design duo with every vivid detail.

01/ Bibo Ergo Sum "We're all about the bold elements in this postmodern design. The use of reds, pinks and peach helps soften the linear patterns and geometric designs." 116 N. Robertson Blvd., biboergosumla.com

02/ Glossier "What makes this interior so strong is the use of one shade of pink, which has been perfected with a smattering of lavender. The textured wall finish adds a layer of depth." 8407 Melrose Place, glossier.com

03/ Divine Feminine "Artist C. Finley uses a powerful shade of pink on the side of a DTLA building. It's a strong color that makes a marvelous statement: feminine in all the right ways!" 1249 S. Grand Ave.

04/ Alfred Tea Room Pioneers of the pink movement in LA, this tea shop embraced shades of bubble gum, neon and floral before it was cool." Various locations

05/ Facile dermatology + boutique "Perfectly serene, the tones used at this Robertson Boulevard spa make the most relaxing backdrop." 638 1/2 N. Robertson Blvd., West Hollywood, facileskin.com

06/ Mansur Gavriel "We love the way this dusty-pink facade is front and center, and comes layered with peach bougainvillea. The clean lines of the glass windows and geometric display pedestals perfect the look." 8475 Melrose Place, mansurgavriel.com
