STEP INSIDE NEW URBAN SOCIAL CLUB EDISON HOUSE

Edison House, a new urban social club, adds vibrance to the energized social scene in downtown Salt Lake west of State Street.

Salt Lake City is going through some big changes, and one of the noticeable shifts is west of State Street. Even mid-week, the sidewalks are bustling and clubs and restaurants have customers lined up. It's no longer the Salt Lake of a few short years ago.

To the left of the vestibule, a grand space opens with a variety of seating and meeting spaces and a full bar and spacious restaurant. The Edison House is a new building specifically designed for its variety of social spaces built by Okland Construction, designed by HKS Architects, and interiors by Avenue Interior Design.
