

hospitality design

Durango Casino & Resort Readies to Open in Las Vegas

Station Casinos' newest luxury property captures the spirit of the desert

Avenue Interior Design blends sophistication and warmth in the Bel-Aire lobby lounge; renderings courtesy of Durango Casino & Resort

The Durango Casino & Resort will open its doors in southwest Las Vegas next month. Taking cues from the warm hues and vibrant landscapes that define the desert, the property is an interplay of stone-clad floors and walls, texture, light, and neutral tones.

Seamlessly attached to the lobby, the lobby bar and lounge is a hidden gem of cozy nooks and modern seating areas designed by Los Angeles-based Avenue Interior Design. Drawing inspiration from global travels and the earthy tones of the surrounding landscape, the lounge exudes sophistication and softness. The space is anchored by gilded alcoves, hand-painted banana leaf wallpaper, and an undulating brass pendant that suspends as a centerpiece over the bar. Lush plantings both inside and outside on a covered patio add a tropical touch.

The Bel-Aire Backyard, the resort's pool area, designed by Avenue Interior Design