

hospitalitydesign

Avenue Interior Design Makes Over SLS Beverly Hills' Guestrooms

The SLS Hotel, a Luxury Collection Hotel, Beverly Hills has announced the completion of its $22 million guestroom redesign from Los Angeles-based Avenue Interior Design, finished in time for the hotel's 10th anniversary festivities this November.

Signature elements like oversized mirror panels and whimsical accents juxtapose white oak, Carrara marble, and neutral fabrics. New details include custom lightboxes that illuminate hallways and vibrant carpeting, which accents oversized abstract prints and handmade needlepoint pillows adorned with classic Picasso prints. A custom, vintage map of LA is also fixed upon the top of the media center.

Two new suite categories, the Style and Storyseeker suites, have been added to the property as part of the renovation, both boasting private bedroom and living areas. The 1,900-square-foot presidential suite comprises four separate rooms including an expansive bedroom with an oversized closet, powder room, soaking tub, and rain shower. The palatial accommodation also includes a dining room equipped with a bespoke chandelier and cherry oak dining table, and a comfortable study with a collection of LA-centric artwork and cultural books. A cozy living room is connected to the kitchen.