Las Vegas Leans Into Immersive, High-Design Venues

Avenue Interior Design pulled from California's natural beauty for its overhaul of Veranda. The modern American restaurant at the Four Seasons Hotel Las Vegas now greets guests with a colorful botanical mural buoyed by greenery and terracotta. It paves the way to a homey interior richly layered with velvet, leather, marble, brass, and hand-cut Zellige tile. Grounding the space is an imposing olive tree that rises above the constellation of banquettes and tables.
